Guiding Principles

- We – Collectively – are Brilliant & Can find an Innovative Path and Create Brighter Futures
- We must Think, Live and Act from a place of Abundance – We have enough time, money, resources…
- We Must Focus on Abilities!
- You have the Power to make the Difference!

Guiding Principle

- DisAbility is a natural part of the human experience and in no way diminishes the right of individuals to:
  - (A) live independently;
  - (B) enjoy self-determination and make choices;
  - (C) benefit from an education;
  - (D) pursue meaningful careers; and
  - (E) enjoy full inclusion and integration in the economic, political, social, cultural, and educational mainstream of society in the United States.

Public Law 108-364

Statistics to Digest

- 14% of People with disAbilities are fully employed.
- 16% of People with disAbilities are underemployed.
- 70% are unemployed or out of the work force entirely.
- Adults with disAbilities work fewer hours -command lower wages, and earn less annually.
  - Their median annual earnings ($10,400) are only 58.1% of the median earnings of those not having LD ($17,886)

- As reported by NFI – President Bush 2001

Accessibility

iPad comes standard with accessibility features that help people with disabilities experience all that it has to offer.

Built-in accessibility.

iPad comes with a screen reader, support for playback of closed-captioned content, and other innovative universal access features — right out of the box. There's no additional software to buy or install. These features make iPad easier to use for people who have a vision impairment, are deaf or hard of hearing, or have a physical or learning disability.

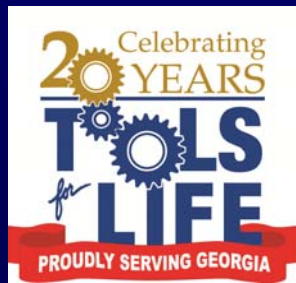
Effective Communication

Communication with individuals with disabilities must be as effective as communications with others.

Effective Communication

- Communication includes the exchange of information in all forms, including
  - Voice
  - Sound
  - Print
  - Electronic & Information Technology



Effective Communication

Disabilities affecting communication:

- Vision
- Hearing
- Speech
- Cognition

Communicating One-on-One or in Groups:

- AAC devices provide communication access through typed or pre-programmed words and sentences, or through pictorial symbols.

Celebrating 20 YEARS
TOLS for LIFE
PROUDLY SERVING GEORGIA

Definition of AAC

- Augmentative and alternative communication can be any device, system, or method that improves a person's ability to communicate effectively.
- It often refers to technology or communication devices, but also includes low tech strategies.
- The objective of AAC is to develop functional communication and provide the foundation for language and literacy development.

Types of AAC

- Unaided systems such as signing and gesturing
- Aided techniques ranging from picture charts to the most sophisticated technology currently available

Why AAC?

- Not all people achieve adequate communication with the more “standard” practices, therefore need additional strategies
- Even good communicators may have difficulty in some situations
  - (e.g., noise, grocery deli)
- Not all individuals adapt to their lack of communication without instruction
- AAC strategies in rehabilitation add to arsenal of communication techniques & assist in a variety of communication situations

Lingraphica

Aphasia Facts

- Major cause in US is stroke ~700,000 strokes/year
- New aphasia cases per year ~100,000 (ALS ~5,000; CP ~10,000)
- Currently ~1,000,000 Americans living with aphasia
- Year 2020 prevalence of aphasia projected: ~2,000,000
- Why: aging US population, more stroke survivors, living longer

Impact of Hearing Loss

- The impact of early onset hearing loss effects language developments on many levels including:
  - the ability to extract linguistic clues from auditory language models
  - language rule formation,
  - word knowledge, and
  - vocabulary development
  - acquisition of grammatical skills,
  - concept attainment,
  - appropriate social conversational skills, and
  - literacy development skills

(Carney & Moeller, 1998)

The Statistics…

- 28 million persons with hearing loss across their lifespan
  (ASHA, 2003)

- Who does it affect?
  - 30% of people over 65
  - 14% of those between 45 - 64
  - 8 million people between the ages of 18 – 44
  - 7 million children under 18

  (Better Hearing Institute, 2001)

- 11.3% and 14.9% of school-age children have a hearing loss that affects their learning and development

  (Bess, Dodd-Murphy & Parker, 1998; Niskar et al, 1998)

Personal FM System
